About the programme

The programme 'Progressing Disability Services for Children and Young People' aims to achieve a national unified approach to delivering disability health services, so that there is a clear pathway to the services they need for all children regardless of where they live, what school they go to or the nature of their disability or delay.

Children should receive the health services they need as close to their home and school as possible. Some children may have their needs met by their local Primary Care services. An early intervention and a school age team will look after all children with more complex needs in a defined geographic network area, regardless of the nature of their disability. These teams will be supported by specialist services when a high level of expertise is required.

The programme also involves our partners in the education sector to ensure we are working together to achieve the best possible outcomes for children.

The Health Service as a whole has to operate within the funding available to it and this is a major challenge for all stakeholders, including the HSE, voluntary service providers, services users and their families. We need to make the best possible use of the resources we have, and if we work to get the structure right we will have strong foundations to build on.

Mayo County Childcare and Mayo Early Intervention Service hold an early years inclusion seminar

Mayo County Childcare Committee and the Mayo Early intervention service held a very successful seminar in Knockranny House Hotel, Westport on Saturday 5th March 2016. The seminar was entitled "Early Years Inclusion Day" - Practical ways to include all children.

Dr Geraldine French, the noted specialist in early childhood education gave an inspiring key note address to begin the day. Over 120 early childhood care and education practitioners then attended 3 workshops for the rest of the morning. These workshops aimed to show practitioners, practical ways to include children in their everyday play school settings. The workshops provided guidance on puppetry, a multi sensory approach and equality and diversity. The workshops were delivered by Carmel Balfe of Little Gems Puppets, Michelle Fahey, Annette Jordan and Ann Halligan respectively. Each of these facilitators are experts in each of their respective fields. The feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive regarding the workshops. The facilitators professionalism and expertise was seen by all as they delivered thought provoking, insightful and hugely practical workshops.

Running simultaneously to the workshops and throughout the morning, the event also hosted 20 exhibitors.

These exhibitions again provided participants with practical ideas and ways to develop an inclusive ethos in play schools and all early years settings. The exhibitions included stands from Mayo Early Intervention Service—Parents Plus programme, toileting skills, Handwriting without Tears Programme, multisensory approaches to storytelling, Mayo County Childcare Committee, Music Generation Mayo, National Early Years Quality Development (Better Start), Mayo Travellers Support Group, Mayo Intercultural Action, Nexus, Wesco, Knockranny House Hotel—Spa Salveo, Mayo County Library, Connaught Creative Resource, Thinking Toys, Mindfulness, Artistscant Draw, Autism Service and MSLETB.

Throughout the day, participants could also view art work submitted by early years settings and play schools. This art work provided examples of inclusive practice happening on a daily basis through the county in the 120 early years services. Also services submitted photos which were compiled into a slide show and shown on screens throughout the hotel.

The organisers from Mayo Early Intervention Service and Mayo CC stated " we are delighted with how successful today's event has been. We wish to acknowledge all the photos and art work submitted by the workers from all the early years services around the county. We also wish to acknowledge the fact that after a hard week's work, these workers have given up their Saturday to attend this event. This is just another example of the commitment and dedication which exists in the early years sector in Mayo. We also wish to acknowledge all the parents and agencies who attended today's event. Finally we wish to acknowledge Dr Geraldine French who delivered such an inspiring key note address. We really hope everyone who attended got something positive from today's event."
